Clinton F. Fletcher is a Partner in the Atlanta office of CSVL, whose practice is focused in General Liability. In particular, Clinton has extensive experience in the areas of products and premises liability, trucking, aerospace, construction equipment and material handling equipment. In addition to his busy practice, Clinton serves as CSVL's Product Liability Practice Group Chair

With respect to Clinton's aerospace experience, Clinton has defended large air carriers from personal injury and cargo loss claims, applying laws and principles arising out of the Montreal Convention, Air Carrier Access Act, Carmack Amendment and various Federal Aviation Regulations.

As Georgia counsel for three major auto manufacturers, Clinton has significant experience defending warranty claims arising under the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act and Georgia's Lemon Law. On behalf of one auto manufacturer's financing arm, Clinton defended consumer protection claims in both state and federal courts.

Clinton is rated AV Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell and was named to Georgia Super Lawyers Rising Star list consecutively from 2009 to 2014. He was previously the Georgia State Membership Chair for the Defense Research Institute (DRI) and is former chair of DRI's Recreational Products Specialized Litigation Group. In addition to his practice with the firm, he is a published author and respected presenter. A devoted volunteer, Clinton's most recent service is as a member of Skyland Trail Advisory Board. Skyland Trail is a mental health treatment center.
